Panel Exhausted With Three Jurors Lacking In Foltz Murder Case

Special Verdict Ordered by Judge Van Swearingen for Wednesday Morning.

RECESS THIS AFTERNOON

Court Adjourns for Funeral of Alderman John Boyle; Former Connellsville Woman, Only One Chosen Thus Far, Warmly Commended.

With nine jurors chosen for the trial of Jacob K. Foltz for the murder of Benjamin R. Young, the regular panel was exhausted at 11:15 o'clock today and Judge J. C. Van Swearingen ordered Sheriff John Q. Adams to summon another to report at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning, court planning to adjourn this afternoon on account of the funeral of Alderman John Boyle.

During the morning three jurors were chosen, bringing the total to nine. Those named today were:

Mrs. Mary A. Welshouse, Uniontown.

Abner Black, farmer, Monaca township.

John Loxan, miner, North Union township.

The others, named yesterday, were:

Benjamin Dabbs, farmer, Latrobe township.

Walter C. Ray, farmer, Connellsville.

Rev. O. J. Baker, M. E. minister, Point Marion.

Lloyd C. Haker, clerk, Point Marion.

Adam P. Bangard, farmer, Salford No. 1.

Harry Frost, clerk, German No. 1.

Mrs. Welshouse, who formerly resided in Connellsville, won the approbation of the court by the manner in which she responded to questions.

"I feel that the thanks of the court are due Mrs. Welshouse for speaking out so that all could hear," the judge remarked.

Mrs. Welshouse said her husband is a railroad telegrapher. They have been married 24 years. She said she had no connections, relatives and would do her duty.

H. A. Koser of Connellsville, a carpenter, was the first examined today. He was challenged promptly by the defense.

Jonas Platter of Henry Clay township was excused because of a sick child. He said he had never served on a jury in Fayette county but had had experience in Garrett county, Md., and Somerset county.

Louise Burnhardt of Uniontown said she knew Mrs. Foltz since she was a girl and "all her people." She said she had expressed no opinion but that serving would be an unpleasant duty.

Harry Jacobs, South Brownsville freight conductor, said he was opposed to capital punishment.

Edward Economy of Connellsville objected to capital punishment. He is a railroad West Penn employee.

Miss Beulah Stuber of North Union township objected to capital punishment as a "matter of conscience."

She said she had known the Foltz family and had gone to school with members.

Charles Rowan of Springfield township was promptly challenged for "cause."

Frank E. Laughland of Georges township said he knew the Foltz family. He said he had a fixed opinion.

MRS. CHARLES L. WORK DIES VERY SUDDENLY IN PITTSBURG HOSPITAL

Following her removal to the St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, on Saturday, Mrs. Ruth Arman Work, wife of Charles L. Work, suddenly died Monday night. Her death was a shock to a large circle of friends here as it had been reported to the family in the afternoon that she showed some improvement. Last evening a call that she had taken a turn for the worse was received but before her sister, Mrs. C. C. Mitchell, wife of Mayor Mitchell, could reach her bedside death occurred.

Mrs. Work was prominent in Connellsville. Many did not know of her illness and removal to the hospital and her death in a great shock. In addition to her husband, one son, Bobby, survives. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Arman, also survive. The body was brought from Pittsburgh today.

Bonus Bill Passes in The House

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The House today passed the bonus bill. The measure is radically different from the bill President Harding vetoed.

Its principal provision is a 20-year endorsement insurance which will be issued to all ex-service men except those whose compensation is $50 or less. These will be entitled to cash. The vote was 3-5 to 51, an overwhelming victory for the bonus advocates.

EMERGENCY PROFITS TAXES COME NEXT

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Literally thousands of the special reports called for by Auditor General Samuel S. Lewis for the first laying of the emergency "profits" tax of 1923 were received at the department of the State's comptroller during last week and it is probable some questions on operation of the tax will be raised by taxpayers very promptly. The period for filing such reports closes with Saturday unless an extension is granted by the auditor general after presentation of reasons.

The auditor general has had the blanks for reports sent to every corporation partnership or firm on the list and it is expected there will be a number which will not be called upon to pay tax. This procedure was taken as there would be as complete a call possible made for the tax.

The state authorities will have to make the computations of the taxes in many instances and it will take weeks to work out the figures. In the case of corporations filing Federal returns, which have been granted and extension until June 15 by the Treasury Department providing they file a tentative return on March 15, the state will grant an extension for 60 days, the limit allowed by law if they file a statement and estimate. In this event they can have until June 15, the end of the federal return period, to complete their report.

VANDERBILT ALSO HAS MURPHY ACT

At a meeting of Vanderbilt Council Monday night orders were issued to Constable Jerry R. Renshaw to post the "Murphy Act" and an ordinance prohibiting the parking or standing of vehicles upon certain streets of the borough of Vanderbit, or using the same as a place for storing and repairing vehicles and imposing penalties for the violation of the same, which was adopted. The "Murphy Act" prohibits "the manufacture, sale, barter, transportation, delivery or possession of intoxicating liquors or adulterated thereof by any person or persons within the borough of Vanderbit."

In the absence of W. A. Congrove, secretary, Miss Grace Moore acted.

The Youghiogheeny Automobile Club will give its support to the building of the proposed new bridge at South Connellsville when that time comes, it was declared at the meeting of the organization at the Baltimore & Ohio Y. M. C. A. last night.

The bridge across the Youghiogheeny river at South Connellsville, it is believed, will provide a much more direct and far shorter route to Dunbar. With this declaration of support for the bridge, the club will find many South Connellsville residents representing in moves to be undertaken by the association of automobile owners and drivers.

PLANNING BODY SELECTED BY CITY COUNCIL

G. A. Markle, P. Gallardi, D. E. Lofley, E. C. Higbee, C. B. Franks Compose It.

VINE STREET ORDINANCE IN

Proposed Improvement to Be Extended as Far South as Ashtu Avenue. Bids Ordered for Paving of Snyder Street; Prospect Street Revised.

By the process of elimination—individually—members of City Council Monday evening named the members of the so-called City Planning Commission, provided by act of Assembly and by an ordinance recently enacted. Several names were suggested and from the field each voted one, all but one of whom has agreed to serve.

The personnel is: George A. Markle, five years. Philip Gallardi, four years. D. E. Lofley, three years. Edward C. Higbee, two years. Charles B. Franks, one year. Mr. Franks was the only one not consulted, but it was believed he would agree to serve. He is out of the city. The others had been consulted in person or by telephone.

While it is within the power of Council to name a chairman, this was left to the commission which will be asked to meet at an early date and organize. The meeting was of less duration than the average one recently. Councilman H. L. Berg introduced an ordinance for the improvement of Vine street from Cedar avenue to Ashtu avenue. The petition for this work originally covered the section from Cedar to Dunbar. Another petition was presented and the ordinance was revised to conform.

Purchasing Agent Charles M. Stone was ordered to advertise for bids for the paving of Snyder street from the end of the present paving to the terminus of the state road at Campbell street. Bids are to be opened the evening of April 11.

Mr. Stone also introduced a bill for an eight-lane sanitary sewer 110 feet long in Chestnut street, south of Ashtu avenue. The matter of the improvement of Marietta avenue was again held over. Citizens of the West Side Hill, living principally along Hanning street, protested against the condition of the street which they say is impassable for coal growers and other trucks and even funeral cars. After one venture onto the sidewalk he must climb his truck, they said, trucks invading the walks to escape the deeper mud in the street. Promise was given that some action would be distributed as soon as possible.

James J. Ash and others appeared in behalf of revival of the proposal to pave North Prospect street, at least between Peach and Fayette streets.

In Holders' Contest. Charles R. Jones, Connellsville violinist, will take part in the old-time fiddlers' contest to be given at Hallow's Gardens, Uniontown, tonight. The affair is open to all old-timers.

Pennsylvania Substitutes Motor Trucks for Its Local Freight Service on Branch

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has discontinued local freight service on the Southwest Branch, and substituted motor trucks. The arrangement became effective Monday.

Connellsville is the distributing center for the territory from Uniontown to Ruffsdale. Business from Ruffsdale northward is handled from Uniontown.

For the present a train will be in service from Uniontown to Brownsville and Monongahela River points but eventually it is planned to substitute trucks.

One truck was started out of Connellsville almost at once it became apparent that one would not suffice.

For the present there will be tri-weekly service. The truck will cover the territory to the north of Connellsville on Monday, Wednesday and Friday; to the south on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The contract for the work has been awarded to the Beaver Valley Service Company.

Distribution by truck is more economical and more expeditious than by train. It is said the Pennsylvania System is resorting to truck service in many places.

AUTO CLUB ASKED TO AID OWENSDALE GET BETTER ROAD

Route to Scottdale Absolutely Impassable, 700 Signers of Petition Say.

PLAN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Committee, With George W. Campbell as Chairman, Will Cover City and All Surrounding Sections Systematically; Want Improvement

The Youghiogheeny Automobile Club, composed of owners of machines residing in the city and throughout this end of Fayette county, held an enthusiastic meeting at the Baltimore & Ohio Y. M. C. A. last night with a fine attendance. There was a big out of town representation present. The club is functioning stronger now than ever before and following a systematic membership campaign to be instituted soon it will become one of the most efficient organizations of its kind ever formed here.

A number of matters important to the car owner and to the community in general, with the advancement of Connellsville and the upper end of the county as chief objective, were taken up.

One of the most impressive features was the presentation of a petition, or several of them, from residents of Owensdale and Upper Tyone township, asking for the improvement of a road from Owensdale into Scottdale. The highway is impassable, it is pointed out, and to get to the Mill Run, it is necessary to come to this place first. When doctors cannot make their way through the terrible roads, it was stated.

The petitioners were presented by H. S. Young and A. Shallenberger. They contained 700 names. The petition asks for the improvement of one and six-tenths miles of the road making a connection with the highway through Brown.

The club voted to endorse the petition and if the improvement goes through it was pointed by Dr. J. L. Cochran that the Fayette county commissioners would resurface the Narrows road, giving another outlet to the city and also a new route to Scottdale. It was said the township supervisors, Charles Crossen, Abraham Truxal and Charles Lutz were willing to go along with the commissioners on a 50-50 basis for the improvement.

In line with the membership campaign it was planned for a systematic canvass of this section of the county. The committee selected is composed of George W. Campbell, chairman, Joseph Dinterman, chairman, Brown David Cohen and G. C. Leaphar, Jr.

E. Mason, superintendent of the Lehigh Valley No. 1 plant of the R. C. Frick Coke Company, and John Trader, manager of the Overholt Distilling Company at Broad Ford, offered the services of a number of their employees in making a canvass.

With a goal of 500 members, which it is believed can be attained, the drive will open soon. Such a membership, it is declared, will give weight to the club and good roads for this end of the county is its chief aim. The club will, as a result, be automatically, as a law in the past but regular meetings will be held once each month. The next will be some time in April.

An effort will be made soon to reach the Westmoreland county commissioners with an appeal for improvement of the stretch of road beyond Iron Bridge. That section is one continuous "bump."

Another committee appointed last night, in addition to the membership, was the road committee. It is composed of A. S. Sloan, chairman; A. C. Slickel, G. Corrado, John Trader and Frank W. Wright.

Following the meeting there was a smoker and luncheon. Approximately 15 new names were placed on the roll last night.

This Nurse Just Couldn't Stop Coughing

It takes more than ordinary sweet-syrup cough mixtures to stop a stubborn cough that persists in hanging on.
For night ordinary coughs almost any decent cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Broncholine Emulsion.

Often one half bottle forces the most stubborn cough to yield and you are better almost before you know it. There is no sugar, chloroform or dope in Broncholine Emulsion, and it's a wonderful medicine for people who are getting over a heavy cold or an attack of flu.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists yet one half bottle of Broncholine Emulsion did stop it completely.

Ask Union Drug Company or any drugist for a bottle—often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough.—Advertisement.

We 23,000 Men Present you the utmost in fine cars

THERE are 23,000 of us building Studebaker cars. Most of us are partners in the business. Thousands of us are stockholders. All of us, after a certain time, get dividends on wages.

All of us, after two years, get vacations with pay. All of us, after one year, get dividends on wages. After five years, that annual dividend adds 10% to our earnings.

The company spends vast sums on co-operative work with us. When we retire, we get pensions.

So Studebaker cars represent the best that we, in combination, know how to offer you.

Some of us belong to management. If we do better than expected, we get 10% of the excess. So every man among us does his best to make Studebaker cars supreme.

Our fine backing Behind us is an honored name. For 72 years Studebaker has been the leader in quality and class.

We have $90,000,000 of assets. We have $50,000,000 in model plants. We have 12,500 up-to-date machines. So Studebaker cars are built by modern and efficient methods.

We have an engineering department which costs $500,000 yearly. That to maintain and develop Studebaker standards.

We subject Studebaker cars to 30,000 inspections. That requires 1,200 men. All told over 70,000 machine and hand operations are performed in manufacture of a Studebaker car. In so many operations, though each one is small, there is a great opportunity for economies and savings.

We have a $10,000,000 body plant, to maintain the Studebaker standard of coach work. There sons, fathers and grandfathers are working together, to build such bodies as Studebaker always built.

Those bodies are finished by many operations, including 15 coats of paint and varnish.

The open bodies are upholstered

All Studebaker models are equipped with Timken bearings. There are few cars in America, regardless of price, which equal ours on this point. In our Light-Six, for instance, we put more Timken bearings than are used in any competitive car, within $1,500 of its price.

We give unusual equipment. On some Big-Six models, for instance, we include two nickel-plated bumpers, one or two extra disc wheels with cord tires, a courtesy light, a motometer, steel trunk, etc.

How we do this We give you these extra values through quantity production. We build 150,000 cars per year — more than any other fine-car builder.

Our large expenses are divided by that enormous output.

We do it by building our own bodies, our own parts. Thus we save outside profits.

We do it because we have up-to-date plants, with all forms of modern equipment.

The results are these: Beauty, quality and luxury such as no maker can surpass.

Prices far below the usual. Our Light-Six, built by ordinary methods, would sell for from $200 to $400 more. Our Big-Six can be compared only with the highest-priced cars in the world.

Here are 13 models, from $1,025 to $2,685. Each of them offers scores of advantages over any comparable car. They offer such values that the trend toward Studebakers has become overwhelming.

Go analyze the reasons before you buy a quality car.

See how Studebaker gained top place

145,167 people last year paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

The sales have almost trebled in the past three years. Studebaker growth in fine cars is the marvel of this industry.

Go see the reasons. See the scores of extra values Studebaker offers.

There are 13 models. Prices start at $1,025. They go to the highest price a fine car needs to cost.

Don't buy a car for years to come without knowing how Studebaker gained its amazing popularity.

in real leather. The closed bodies in Chase Mohair. That is made from the silky fleece of Angora goats.

We pay for those extras — and others — out of savings. Building our own bodies saves you on some types up to $500 per car.

We never stint The rule here is to give the utmost in every part and detail.

We have 35 formulas for steel. Each has been demonstrated best for its purpose. On some of these steels we pay 15% premium to get the formulas exact.

DAYLIGHT SAVING BY CONSENT, NOT COMPELSION.

It is an encouraging sign of returning sanity on the part of some of the over-zealous advocates of "daylight saving" to observe that they are becoming willing to concede that adoption of the plan "by common consent" is more to be preferred than enforcement "by compulsion."

That, in short, is the position maintained at all times since the innovation was first suggested by those communists, interests and persons to which a change in time is an inconvenience. Daylight saving in principle has not been opposed and is not now opposed in these quarters. It is the method by which it was proposed to make it operative that caused objections to be offered.

Further, it has been and still is contended that the object can be just as well served by the very simple expedient of going to work an hour earlier and getting an hour earlier in the evening. It is the method by which it was proposed to make it operative that caused objections to be offered.

In such succeeding seasons since the plan has been proposed, an increasing number of establishments and persons have taken the very reasonable view that they can apply the principle of daylight saving without changing the clock. By this method there is no disarrangement in the time schedule. It is merely a matter of starting the day one hour earlier on standard time.

The Detroit law enacted by the General Assembly does not prohibit any person from rising one hour earlier and ordering the day to suit his or her convenience or necessities. The law forbids municipalities or other bodies making an official change in Eastern Standard time, which is the legal method of measuring the day in Pennsylvania. There is no prohibition imposed upon business establishments, factories or institutions from arranging by common consent with employees to begin the day at 6 or 7 o'clock instead of 7 or 8 as formerly, and thus make available all the advantages that would accrue from the daylight saving schedule.

That this is becoming to be more generally accepted and acted upon, and there is less insistence upon making a hard and fast rule by which everybody is forced to practice the fiction of setting the same amount of sleep in the morning by moving the clock ahead one hour, shows that the opponents of daylight saving by compulsion are either as selfish or as foolish as they have been asserted to be. Somewhat grudgingly, perhaps, it is being admitted that they have the common sense view as to how daylight saving can best be practiced.

ENLARGED SCOPE OF THE AUTOMOBILE CLUB.

The policy of making the Youngsboro Automobile Club more than a purely local organization has everything to commend it. The interests of all of the neighboring sections of the county centering around Connellville are precisely the same as those of Connellville in all that pertains to automobilism. The parking regulations in the city are of concern to car owners from out of town as they also are to resident drivers and owners. Highway betterments are, of course, of primary interest to the people along the lines of communication, but advantages result to every citizen who has occasion to go out of town on business or pleasure. There is, therefore, such a community of interest between town and country automobilists that an organization embracing both in its active membership will be infinitely better positioned to serve the whole fraternity and all northern Fayette county than a club that is purely local in its membership.

While the advancement of the cause of good roads and the working out of more satisfactory parking regulations are of first importance in an automobile club, an organization which is to be inclusive in its scope as the reorganized Youngsboro Automobile Club has opportunities and the equipment for service along many closely related lines. It ought to form a more neighborly relationship between the town and the country and stimulate both to a closer cooperation in all that affects the best interests and mutual welfare of both. In these things there should be no boundary lines, either real or imaginary, between the city and the adjoining neighborhoods. There should be both help and the desire to work harmoniously together on all matters that will advantage either or both.

There is every present assurance that this will be one of the very

Boil-Weeviling the Constitution

They enshrined the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence in a specially made vault at the Congressional Library the other day—the original documents, that is. Physically they will be safe from the wear and tear of the elements for all time.

But what of the principles which they enunciated? That great charter of which Gladstone said: "The most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man," is being attacked on all sides by the enemies of constitutional government who lavish against any instrument calculated to thwart their communistic designs or their attempts to reduce this Nation to the condition now suffered by Russia.

During the 87th (last) Congress it is reported there were some 300 proposals to amend the Constitution, and the present Congress gives promise of an even greater number of such proposals. These amendments provide for almost every conceivable interference with private rights, the breaking down of the powers reserved to the states, and the centralization of power in the federal government.

"One method of assault," said Washington, "may be to effect, in the form of the Constitution, alterations which will impair the energy of the system; and thus to undermine what cannot be directly overthrown." and was warned against "that facility in changes, upon the credit of mere hypothesis and opinion" which he foresaw.

This drift toward communism appears to be by way of pure democracy and common sense, as we have witnessed in the case of Russia, develop into an autocracy of the most despotic type. Never did the czar wield such power over his subjects as did Lenin, and as does Lenin's successor, over the inhabitants of Russia. The fixed idea of the framers of the Constitution was to establish a government which would resist the tendency toward autocracy on the one hand and pure democracy on the other—to avoid the extremes and to achieve the mean republican government. Said Madison: "The true distinction between these forms is that in a democracy the people meet and exercise the government in person. In a republic they assemble and administer it by their representative agents." President Franklin, in his address before the Associated Press in New York, shortly before his death, remarked that "our drift today is toward pure democracy, and no pure democracy ever long survived."

It is not strange to find that the very Representatives and Senators in Congress who most favor this drift toward pure democracy are the ones who most zealously work for such communistic ideas as government railroad ownership, mine ownership, ship control, and many other activities now in private hands. They know that if the people are hustled into this first democratization, their drivers can force them into the extreme of socialism, just as the czar miners know that if they can bring in the coal industry in private hands, they can force the government to then hold up the government on all their demands.

If the people have lost faith in constitutional government they will permit this drifting to go on unchecked, or even encouraged. If they have not, they should arouse themselves and put a stop to it by throwing out of power those who press the movement on. For, after all, the fate of the Nation always lies in the hands of the people.

Maple Sugar Time

Pittsburgh Gazette Times.

News dispatches record that the sugar camps are being made ready. The winter has been favorable to producing a few days in that there has been prolonged frozen soil but that alone does not insure a good season. Alternate frosts and thawing after the trees are tapped with no days too warm are essential to a plentiful flow. While the industry is a decadent one due to the trees dying or being cut away and the product is steadily diminishing, the demand for maple syrup increases. As a result the price is several times what it was a few years ago and the amount of "pure maple syrup" consumed is many times that which is turned out by the sugar camps. Notwithstanding that so much synthetic maple syrup that in taste cannot be told from the genuine is produced it is still possible to procure the genuine article. Twenty states contribute to its manufacture.

While Vermont stands first, Pennsylvania and northern Ohio have many maple sugar trees and the aggregate production of the latter two is considerable. The work of operating a camp is not that of a summer holiday. Tapping the trees, boiling the sap and hauling it to the factory involves real physical labor and vigilance as well. Because of the scarcity of farm help some camps have not been opened in recent years. Those experienced in the business do not rest over a year or two since that conserves their vitality.

The only fun in maple sugar making is for those who are too young to help much and yet are permitted to idle around the sugar house and eat the wax or sugar when a bit of syrup is boiled to that point. Making maple sugar involves much outdoor work in a place where the weather is likely to be at its worst. Therefore the producer is not necessarily highly paid if what he demands does seem a high price.

LET FAME COME LAST.

Let fame come last. There are so many things more worth the winning than the pomp of fame.

A child's love, and the laughter of a game, The satisfaction which a good deed brings.

A character where no dishonor clings, A happy heart free and a spotless name.

The joys of friendship—who but needs not envy the renown of kings.

Seek not for fame, seek rather to be true, Cherish the will to be of service here.

SUFFERED 20 YRS. NOW WELL

Blizz Spells, Gas, Pains in Back and Sides Disappear When "Dreco" Puts His Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels in Order.

"Dreco has certainly done a whole lot for me," declares Mr. H. B. McKnight, 77 year old citizen living at 218, Second street, Canton, Ohio. "I was in a terrible weak and run-down condition, lost weight and suffered from almost every imaginable ill. I was constipated all the time. Indigestion, gas and bilious attacks almost drove me mad at times and pains in my back and limbs crippled me so I could just about get around. Blizz-spells came upon me and I'd have to hold on to something to keep from falling. Was nervous and had to force myself to eat for I knew how I'd suffer afterward."

"Even the first bottle of Dreco seemed to help me and now after giving it a fair trial I'm like a new man. I eat like a kid again and am stronger than I have been for a long, long time. My stomach is in fine shape and my nerves have been quieted. Dreco is certainly a wonderful remedy and I'm only too glad to recommend it."

Dreco acts on the liver in a smooth, gentle manner gradually working off the excess bile day by day. It is neither strong nor harsh and does not excite the muscles of the bowels as strong cathartics do. It tones up the digestive organs and relieves gas on the stomach, puts an end to constipation, increases the appetite, gives strength to weak kidneys, restores the nervous and produces sound sleep. Dreco is a great blood purifier and system cleanser.

Dreco is for sale at all druggists and is being specially introduced here by Connellsville Drug Co. and is available by Hoffman Drug Store. Advertisement.

Gold Mine Sold at Auction for $5,100

Baker, Ore.—The North Pole mine in the Harney district, 40 miles south of here, one of the best known of the old gold producers in Baker county, went on the block at a sheriff's sale this week and when the hammer fell Sanford Adler and O. P. Lilly, two local young business men, were the purchasers of the property for $5,100. The mine has actually produced between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 of gold and, according to mining engineers, "is just scratched on the surface."

For 20 years the property has been owned by Alexander Herring of London, England, and was operated by him under management of Emil Meizer of this city. Sickness on the part of Mr. Herring, other mining interests and the need of money to develop the mine caused him to virtually abandon the property, which, since its closing down two years ago, has been practically idle.

Physician Risks Life to Save Pup From Ice

Detroit.—An eight-months-old Alsatian, frozen to the ice in the Detroit river and howling for help, was rescued from death by a sixty-four-year-old man, who, risking his life on the treacherous, broken ice, crawled to the dog, chopped him free, bundled him in a blanket and brought him safely to shore. The story was told by friends of Dr. Adlington Newman, to whom Jerry, the puppy, owes his life.

"I love dogs," Doctor Newman said, "and I couldn't endure the thought of watching this fine pup die for want of human aid. I tied a rope around my waist and asked a policeman to hold the other end. Then I worked my way over the ice, pushing a skiff ahead of me, and at length reached and rescued the dog. I expect him to be all right in a day or so."

Heir to Millions Is Working as Messenger

Boston, Mass.—William H. Vanderbilt, son of the late Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, and heir to a fortune estimated at $25,000,000, has taken a position as messenger in the office of Lee Higginson & Company, bankers and brokers. He receives the salary of a beginner, $8 a week, and asserts that he desires to learn banking from the bottom rung up.

He sits on a long bench with other messengers, answers telephone calls and runs errands. Upon his departure from work he returns to his home on Longwood Square, Beach Hill, where he lives with his bride of last November, who was formerly Emily O'Neill Davis, and where he employs a butler and five servants. During the evening he is prominent in the social affairs of Boston's younger set.

Health Much Better After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"Your little book left at my door was my best doctor. I read it, then said to my husband, 'Please go and get me some Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I want to take it.' The first month I took three bottles of Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. If you only knew how much better I feel! Now when my friends say they are sick I tell them to take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine. I give the little book and your medicines the best of thanks."—Mrs. HAMMOND, 2765 25th Street, Detroit, Michigan.

PROMINENT FIGURES IN THE DAYS NEWS.

THOMAS H. FIDLER, SEN. BRODERICK HARTWELL, J. T. ROBINSON, J. O. MILLER, V. C. WRIGHT, and Dick Rogers.

Thomas H. Fidler, of New York City and Atlanta, Ga., one of America's foremost criminal lawyers, has been indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in New York on the charge of accepting money from clients on the allegedly false impression that he could "fix" Attorney-General Daugherty. U. S. Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democrat, of Arkansas, in a speech in New York City, declared the Government must keep its hand on business, because the growth of the trust problem tended to Big Business toward sovereignty. Sir Broderick Hartwell, British Consul-General in London, the report that he was aboard the yacht, yacht star, anchored in New York, 13 miles off the American Coast near New York, peddling liquor in large quantities. Representative John O. McKenna, of Illinois, has presented the Henry Ford bill for the purchase of Marine Shipyards to the House. William C. Wright, of Maine, has been named chairman of the House Committee to investigate the U. S. Shipping Board. At the same time, Dick Rogers, a well-known Manchester, N. H., has arrived alone in Chicago, on his way to Los Angeles, where he has been adopted by a well-to-do family.

White and Colors in Dainty Frocks

Used in Combination for Gowns, Sweaters, Coats, Hats and Accessories.

White is apparently a foundation for the newest styles. Notes a fashion correspondent in the New York Times, for it is not only worked out in every type of dress—gowns, sports suits, sweaters, coats, hats and accessories—but it is also combined with colors in the most effective, often the most striking manner. Nothing more charming, more swifter, more satisfying and more generally satisfactory is seen than the all-white flannels, crepes, silks and knitted frocks and suits. But there are exceedingly smart combinations and contrasts, of which black-and-white is the most popular. White voile or crepe gowns are covered with a cut-out design in black cloth or felt, stitched on flat. In others the colors are reversed and stunning things in coats, sweaters, even stockings, shoes and gloves, are shown in sharp black and white, or white on black.

This is as good for the season as for the more mature styles, but bright, lovely combinations are used in the younger models. Jade and white, orange and white, and much scarlet with white. These green jade in many tones, is all the rage in the best wear in Paris, and is already indicated in the leading houses of New York. A beautiful, very young model in jade green chiffon is embellished from the delicate neck to the hem with a pattern in darker green leaves of silk, applied and joined with traceries of fine crystal beads, the edge of the skirt trimmed with a narrow band of white fur. With this artistic gown of style, the dress is a cape of jade green chiffon, gathered into a band at the neck, which is concealed by a full ruff of the chiffon. The cape is finished at the bottom with two tucks and a wide hem. The one-piece fitted, draped or tunic model is well received, but the one-piece chemise dress is obviously the

Another Connellsville Case

It Proves That There's A Way Out for Many Suffering Connellsville Folks.

Just another report of a case in Connellsville. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Connellsville, Pa. Doan's Pills. Samuel Miller, butcher, 320 E. Fairview Ave., Connellsville, says: "I have been a butcher for thirty-five years and the heavy straining put my kidneys in poor condition. My back became lame and stiff and ached constantly. When I lifted a quarter of beef a sharp stab of pain went through the small of my back that felt like a sharp knife. I became so bad I was unable to pass the kidney secretions and I bloated terribly. I couldn't work at all and I suffered much torture. I got Doan's Pills at the Union Drug Co., and the continued use of them drove away every symptom of the trouble and I was cured."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Miller had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

Straight and narrow. This is worn over two pale shades, one of taffeta, the other of chiffon, and a knot and long ends of ribbon in a slightly deeper shade of green are attached over the hip at one side. Nothing could be more daintily severe, nor appeal more definitely to one of slender, youthful figure.

New Cotton Fabrics for Little Misses' Frocks

To mothers who take pride and pleasure in fashioning adorable frocks for the tiny daughter the new cotton fabrics suggest innumerable possibilities. There are smart little plain and checked ginghams guaranteed not to fade so that they are excellent for practical play dresses. English prints have a charming quaintness that makes them especially suitable for children's clothes, while the latest version of dress satin shows a wide variety of stripes and scattered motifs of gay flowers in a formal arrangement. For little afternoon dresses one may choose embroidered grass cloth, that has small conventional designs formed by dots embroidered in color. The range of embroidered cottons is exceptionally wide this spring and the latest show formal motifs in the brightest colors at widely spaced intervals.

March's Changeable Weather. One may expect many changes in weather in March, and should be prepared for coughs and colds. The slight cold, if neglected, may develop into a serious illness. With the first sign of a cough or cold take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, the old reliable family cough remedy, excellent for coughs, colds, hoarseness, John R. Lyons, Prescott, Arizona, states: "I had a bad cough, used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and it relieved me in a little while. Sold everywhere.—Advertisement."

This home made mixture will stop the most stubborn cough and is fine for chest colds and acute catarrh. Children love it. Get from Connellsville Drug Co., or any druggist one ounce of Paracetamol (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar—as directed and enough water to make half a pint that's all there is to it. RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-Four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenbur's, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinges of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment. Allenbur's has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was hopeless. Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenbur's, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenbur's decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Connellsville Drug Store, Union Drug Co., can supply you.—Advertisement.

An Appreciation

DURING the recent sleet storm which swept over the Coke Region practically our entire power system was seriously crippled within 6 hours. Enormous damage was done and the work of many men through many years was wiped out in the space of a few hours. With an ordinary organization the West Penn Power Company could not have hoped to cope with the situation within a weeks time.

The efficient manner in which this emergency was handled and service promptly restored, demonstrates that the West Penn Power System is equipped to meet any situation. No man spared himself—clerks, storekeepers, linemen, solicitors, engineers, all gave their best in the public service. Heroic deeds were many and no one flinched nor swerved from his duty.

The promptness with which this emergency was met was due primarily to the loyalty and hard work of our employees. To them goes the credit. We may only add that it gives us great pleasure to thus publicly acknowledge our appreciation.

The Paramount

"THE MAN AND THE MOMENT," showing today at the Paramount, is a screen adaptation of the astonishing novel by Elinor Glyn. This is the latest of Miss Glyn's novels to reach the screen and it is the story of a strange marriage, an interrupted honeymoon and complications of interest. The action of the story takes place in Scotland, England, and France. Hayford Hobbs is handsome and debonair as the man of the title, and Minora Thew is a pretty and spirited heroine. Complications in the story grow out of the hasty marriage of a man and a girl. It was to have been only an "affair of expediency." On their first meeting, the man and girl learn that they are in pretty much the same predicament. The girl is being forced to marry a man she hates, and the man has been caught in the toils of a vamp. Only marriage to someone else can save them, so they agree to marry and part. What came of the affair we leave to you to discover.

Wednesday and Thursday, "Face to Face," will be shown.

The Soisson

"STEADFAST HEART"—On view today at the Soisson, presents Mary Alden, Marguerite Courtot and Joseph Depew in the principal roles.

The story is that of a young man who, frightened and terrified by his wicked mother, shoots and kills a sheriff in imagined defense of his home. The boy is tried for murder and through the efforts of a newspaper man and a young attorney is acquitted. He wins the enmity of the town's most powerful lawyer through his defeat. The boy is educated far away from the little town, and years later he comes back when his friends are taken sick. He fights his way through the barred doors of local society and in a series of breathless episodes finds out who he really is, and that "blood will always tell."

Dainty, winsome Miss Courtot is playing the leading feminine role and it is said that this is one of the triumphs of her career. Miriam Battista is the girl as a child. Assisting these two is Joey Dower, whose graceful young figure has fitted nowhere more screens than many an older star.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Harry Carey will be seen in "Miracle Baby."

The Orpheum

"THE LIGHT THAT FAILED," the feature picture today at the Orpheum, is a Paramount picture with Percy Marmont in the stellar role. The story deals with Dick Helder, and Maisie Wells, two children in England who love each other. When they reach their majority, Helder is a failure as an artist in Port Said and Maisie lives in a land of dreams in England. Although he loves Maisie Wells, played by Sig. Holmquist, Dick, played by Percy Marmont, will not return to England. An uprising among the tribesmen in the Sudan gives Dick an opportunity to send home a series of sketches which made him famous. Returning to England after the campaign, Dick discovers he is a great figure in art circles. He finds the girl he loves and is in the eye of doing something really worth while in art when his eye-sight fails as the result of wounds received in Egypt. The effect of Dick's blindness unfolds through the lives of several persons. The story shows how each meets the situation which has developed. The action of the picture includes battle scenes in the Egyptian desert, night life in Port Said, and many interesting events in London.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Tom Moore will be seen in "Big Brother."

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endlers chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overhauling kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium sized bottles for sale at all drug stores.

Cruel Punishments of Pupils in Other Days

All the youngsters, whatever others they do, will approve the dismissal of the school teacher who disciplined a six-year-old boy as a punishment, says Girard in the Philadelphia Inquirer. The "cruel and unusual" so to speak, has almost vanished from the public schools.

Dr. J. George Becht, our Pennsylvania state superintendent, can recall when that was not the case. The little gray schoolhouse—it rarely could afford to be painted red or any other color—was then heated by a big square stove which burned hard wood.

One mode of punishment was to make a boy stand upon a piece of wood on the floor, which required nice balancing and soon became a torture.

That was less punishment, however, than another often adopted. A boy or girl was made to hold a heavy book with outstretched arm.

Try that and see how heavy even the lightest weight novel becomes in ten minutes.

One form of school punishment has not changed.

It is a common practice in Philadelphia to "keep in" boys and girls after school hours.

Wearing the "foolscap" or standing in a corner with face to the wall is still occasionally used as a corrective measure.

Doctor Becht can also remember when it was not uncommon for a teacher to compel a boy to bend over and keep his hands on the floor—a form of torture thought out by a real genius for devilry.

At that time a man would attain a reputation for severity of discipline which would make him famous, or rather infamous, over an entire county.

POULTRY

EGGS FROM PULLETS POOR FOR HATCHING

Pullets never should be used as breeders unless they are really hatched and handled under the most favorable conditions, says Noel Hall, extension specialist of the Missouri state poultry experiment station, at Mountain Grove, Mo.

The following are the essential points in producing hatching eggs from pullets:

First, the pullets should be early hatched. It is necessary for the fowls to be mature for the best results.

Second, they must have been raised properly—they must be well developed. Eight-month-old pullets that have been fed and housed properly are better than twelve-month pullets hatched under unfavorable conditions.

Third, the pullet should be brought into lay early in the fall and winter and allowed to rest before breeding season. This allows them to be in good physical condition for the production of hatching eggs.

Fourth, a good ration should be fed throughout the winter, but the pullets should not be forced for production. The breeding ration should contain about three-fourths as much protein as the laying ration.

Fifth, the pullets used as breeders should be supplied an abundance of green food. It will pay to use alfalfa meal or sprouted oats when other green feed is not available.

We are prone to attempt two businesses in one. Commercial egg production and good hatching eggs seldom come from the same flock at the same time. Best results are secured from the flock hatched especially for one or the other.

Pullets to be used in the breeding pens next spring should be culled carefully and placed in separate quarters. Then they should be fed on a breeding ration and not forced for production.

Breeding from pullets is to be discouraged. It is generally conceded that the best results are obtained from hens that have completed one laying year. However, with special care, good results can be secured from well-developed, vigorous pullets if they are not forced for production.

Substitutes for Worms and Bugs During Winter

In order to maintain good egg production during the winter months the flock owner or attendant must reproduce as nearly as possible those conditions which exist at the season of heavy egg production, say the Nebraska Agricultural college poultrymen. "Because of the abundance of bugs and worms during the spring months, and the entire absence of them now it is absolutely essential that some substitute for them be provided. Such substitutes are known as 'animal feeds' and include meat scraps, tankage, and ground bone. This dry mash mixture should contain 15 to 20 per cent of meat scraps or high-grade tankage. If skim milk or buttermilk is available the percentage of other animal feeds may be decreased somewhat.

Hens With Cold Feet Do Not Produce Many Eggs

With eggs bringing unpropitious prices the object of the poultryman is to get his hens to lay the largest possible number of eggs at a minimum of expense, and one way to gain this end is to keep the feet of hens warm, says A. C. Smith, head of the poultry division at University Farm at St. Paul. "Hens with cold feet do not lay," adds Mr. Smith. "Frozen ground snow and mud make cold feet. A dry floor in the hen house with from four to eight inches of straw in which the hens may constantly scratch will not only keep the hen's feet warm but will help to insure good health, which is absolutely essential to egg production."

Eggs for Hatching Need Most Careful Attention

Under average conditions it is not desirable to keep eggs that are to be used for hatching longer than ten days. Satisfactory hatches may be obtained after keeping them over three weeks if they are carefully turned and kept at a temperature of about 50 degrees Fahrenheit. Experiments show that the longer the eggs are kept the lower will be the percentage of chicks.

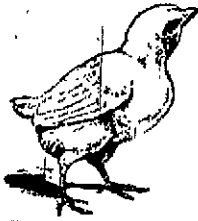

The eggs should be turned once a day. Eggs shipped from a distance should be carefully unpacked and left in a quiet place 24 hours before being placed under hens.—R. J. Peterson, North Dakota Agricultural College.

Sixty Per Cent Hatch Is Considered About Right

If you buy eggs for hatching, don't look for 90 or 100 per cent hatches. Breeders are, as a class, conscientious, and will tell what they believe to be the facts. Eggs from good stock, but away from the healthiest of fowls and of the highest quality, there will be chicks off-spring and defective in some points. A 60 per cent hatch is good, and if half of these prove good birds in color and shape it will be a good hatch.

Avoid Chilling Eggs in Gathering for Hatching

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Eggs saved for hatching should be gathered often enough through the day to prevent any possibility of the eggs being chilled from becoming chilled, says the United States Department of Agriculture, and for best results should be stored in a moderately cool place where the temperature is between 50 degrees and 75 degrees Fahrenheit. It is not advisable to hold hatching eggs longer than ten days or two weeks before being incubated, and the fresher they are when set the better the chances of a good hatch and strong chicks. It is harmful to wash the eggs intended for hatching, as the pores become filled and the air is shut off from the living embryo.

It is also advisable to rest the eggs in each setting for the removal of the infertile ones, which will give a better chance to those that are left. This should be done about the sixth or seventh day. A simple homemade tester can be made in a few minutes from a small wooden or pasteboard box of such size that a common hand lamp, a lantern or a candle can be placed in it. A hole should be cut in the top directly over the flame, and another a little smaller than an egg in one side opposite the flame. The testing should be done in a dark room.

In testing, the light shining through the egg held against the hole in the side of the box, shows the condition of the egg. An infertile egg is clear, while the fertile egg will show a spiderlike formation, a center with long, crooked threads, leading outward, and this formation will float as the egg is turned.

Feed Sprouted Oats to Poultry During Winter

The poultry raiser who has not yet adopted sprouted oats as a part of the hen's bill of fare, especially during the winter months, is not only depriving his hens of feed that would be polished and which is most valuable in feeding for egg production, but is also overlooking one of the best opportunities to save on the cost of feeding.

Spring Range for Fowls Needed for Good Health

As soon as spring comes, the fowls should be given the range of a large yard where they can pick green food and dig for worms. If any of the fowls have diarrhea, add to each gallon of their drinking water one teaspoonful of powdered mustard of ammonia. Supply this three days, then give pure water three days, then the medicine, and so on. Diet is more than medicine in most cases of indigestion.

Second Tilt Between Casey and Unity Frat Takes Place Tonight

Local Clubs Will Clash Again in Five-Game Elimination Series.

ANOTHER GAME FRIDAY

Tonight will mark the production of the second episode of the Unity Fraternity-Casey Club series. The second game of the basketball series will be at the gymnasium of the Connellsville High School and the "show" will begin at 8:15 o'clock. It is expected one of the largest crowds that ever watched a contest between two local teams will attend. The fact that the Casey team showed unexpected strength in the first game, with the Casey just able to nose out a victory in the final minutes, has created an unusual interest between these combinations—rivals of several seasons.

The Fraternity is determined to take the series if at all possible but to do this must overcome a stalling determination—just as firm—as the part of the Casey. The players of both squads are keyed to an exceptionally high pitch. Spectators, with vivid memories of the clash two weeks ago, are also on edge and the rooting will be as sharp as the play between the contestants.

Debrau Edlin Wall of Scottdale and Mattie Bain of Uniontown were unable to "work" the game this evening, a neutral official has been secured from Pittsburgh. This assures top-notch speed.

There will be a preliminary clash between two fast boys teams. It has been arranged by Fred Funnell, manager of the Casey team. It will start at 7:30 o'clock and will be entertainment for the early comers.

WEST NEWTON WILL HAVE CRACK TEAM; TAYLOR IS CAPTAIN

WEST NEWTON, March 18.—Watch West Newton, the word in the Young Valley section for which West Newton having hooked up with Stony Jones' crew of Smithton there should be one grand ball club operating in the Young territory this summer. All they need right now is a good third sacker and the hunt for one will be continued.

Danny Taylor, one of the hardest hitting players in semi-pro ball, will captain the team this year. Bill Jones, a standby at Smithton, is one of the new men taken over from the Stony Jones' team, along with Hammers, Vitale and Board. W. J. Goehring will head the organization for a new field and this will give West Newton an enclosed park setting of the team that will represent the town.

COKERS HAVE THREE MORE GAMES TO PLAY

The High School basketball team has two more weeks in the field. It will be the glorious end of a wonderful season.

The Cokers have lost fewer games than any team ever wearing the Orange and Black livery and have advanced along the road to the highest goal—championship—than any other team in the school's history.

Friday night the locals go to Dunbar Township and on Saturday night the Duquesne University High School will be here.

Redstone and Perry Meet Wednesday to Open Title Series

Redstone Township and Perryopolis High School basketball teams will meet Wednesday night on the Perryopolis floor in the first of a three-game series to be played for the county championship.

The second game will be played at the Redstone gymnasium on the following Saturday evening and the third game, if one is necessary, will be on Wednesday, March 25, at the McClellandtown floor of the German Township High School.

Of Interest to Fans. There will be two games this week between the Unity Fraternity and Casey teams in order to make up for the game missed last week when the Frats met Billy Kummer's Butler Athletics. The second clash this week will be on Friday evening—also at the High School, while Connellsville is playing at Dunbar township.

The High School team will be guests tomorrow at noon luncheon of the Connellsville Kiwanis Club.

The Unity Fraternity Duckpin League will not function tonight because of the basketball game at the High School.

Baseball is sprouting in Scottdale but according to the best informed persons here the only team in the Connellsville section will be at Capstan.

Coneh J. E. Lerow of the High School, is preparing to start track work. As soon as the surface becomes somewhat drier the outside training will begin. Connellsville is out to capture some honors in the county field and track meet this spring. Last May the locals took first place in one event—the broad jump.

The tennis club secretary reports he is receiving a number of requests concerning new memberships in the organization. This would indicate the court game is going to be very popular in the city this summer. Last year was the best ever experienced by the association. Its members journeyed elsewhere for games and visiting teams came here.

Morgenson and Homestead high schools meet tonight in Carnegie Tech gymnasium, Pittsburgh, to battle for the championship of the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League.

It is possible a game between the Unity Fraternity and Capstan teams may be arranged. These teams, always opponents in past seasons, have not met this year despite the fact the Frats is always a good drawing card in South Connellsville. The local quietest refuses to go to Capstan without a guarantee and unless that actually is overcome there will not be a game.

The Faculty team announces it is still in the field and ready to meet "all comers."

The Nelson Girls "packed 'em in" at the Armory Saturday night, outpacing even the fastest boys of those in charge. The Armory would hardly have held more without crowding the spectators on to the floor.

High School will have two relief for its "hall of fame" as a result of the past season. One will be the silver loving cup to be presented by G. Roy Hoxzel, and the other will be the basketball given the team following its victory over Tynanum in the first game of the elimination series at Pittsburgh.

The Capstan Girls will meet the Christian Girls at the Christian gymnasium Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, following the weekly prayer service at the church.

Perry High School will play Redstone High on the Perry floor Wednesday evening.

RARE MOUND FEAT IS ACHIEVED BY BROWN

Strikes Opponents Out With Mates on Bench.

One of the greatest exhibitions of pitching was given by Mordca Brown of the Chicago Nationals when on a spring trip in the South. The club had finished its training and was working northward, playing practice games in small towns.

Brown had gotten into shape easily and was ready for the old gang. He was then at the top of his story.

Chance used him three or four innings every fourth day or so, not wishing to wear him out before the season started.

In this particular clash Mordca had relieved a mate at the start of the fifth. He simply breezed through the innings, putting the ball just where he wanted it. His curve broke like a million dollars. His smile was terrific.

Came the ninth inning. The spectators begged Chance to bench all the players but Brown and the catcher. They had read where Rube Waddell had tossed a final round with nobody with him but the catcher and first sacker, and wanted to see what Brown could do.

Chance was willing. So was Brown, the novelty of the idea appealing to him. And the records show that Mordca struck out the three hostile batters in one, two, three order. They had their troubles making even a foul.

Baseballs Are Used by

Ethnians in Cue Game. Ethnians, since its separation from Russia, has started to indulge in sports on a major scale and one of the first branches to be revived was that of billiards.

Enthusiasm ran high in the city of Turin, but when an old table was found and put into condition for play it was discovered that the balls had been lost and none were available.

The players then sought for substitutes and the great American sport, baseball, came to the rescue. Several matches were played with three baseballs on the table and the players said that they experienced a thrill in playing their games.

A large gymnasium was opened just recently and the attendance at the first class reached the 3,000 mark. Since that time there have been additional classes and the classes have been divided and the instructors are kept busy from morning until night.

Doheny Restraint Asked by Government in California Court

By United Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 17.—Just before court opened here today government action asking an injunction against E. L. Doheny taking oil from Section No. 1 in the Elk Hills naval oil reserves was filed in the clerk's office by Allen Pomorens and Owen J. Roberts, special prosecutors named to wage the fight for cancellation of the oil leases.

The action also asked appointment of receivers and a decree declaring null and void the leases of December, 1932, granted by the government to Doheny's Pan-American Oil Company. Pomorens and Roberts appeared before Federal Judge McCormick shortly after 10 o'clock to present their arguments. At the same time the suit was filed the federal attorneys asked for a court order annulling the government's contract with the Pan-American Company relative to the Pearl Harbor oil refueling base at Honolulu.

Zen of the Y.D.

A NOVEL OF THE FOOTHILLS

by Robert Stead

AUTHOR OF "THE COW PUNCHER," "THE HOMESTEADERS," "NEIGHBORS," ETC.

COPYRIGHT BY ROBERT STEAD

"This is Mr. Donaldson Grant, foreman of the Landon ranch, Dad." Grant extended his hand, but Y.D. hesitated. The truce occasioned by the fire did not by any means imply permanent peace. Far from it, with the valley in ruins—

Y.D. was stiffening, but his daughter averted what would in another moment have been an embarrassing situation with a quick remark.

"This is no time, even for explanations," she said, "except that Mr. Grant saved my life last evening at the risk of his own, and has lost a night's sleep for his pains."

"That was a man's work," said Y.D. It would not have been possible for his lips to have framed a greater compliment. "I'm obliged to you, Grant. You know how it is with us cattle-men, we run mostly to horns and hoofs, but I suppose we have some heart, too, if you can find it."

They shook hands with as much cordiality as the situation permitted, and then Zen introduced Transley and Linder, who were in the party. There were two or three others whom she did not know, but they all shook hands.

"What happened, Zen?" said Transley, with his usual directness. "Give us the whole story."

Then she told them what she knew, from the point where she had met Grant on the fire-encircled hill.

"Two lucky people—two lucky people," was all Transley's comment. Words could not have expressed the jealousy he felt. But Linder was not too shy to place his hand with a friendly pressure upon Grant's shoulder.

"Good work," he said, and with two words sealed a friendship.

Two of the unnamed members of the party volunteered their horses to Zen and Grant, and all hands started back to camp. Y.D. talked almost glibly; not even himself had known how heavily the hand of Fate had laid on him through the night.

"The haystack is all off, Darter," he said. "We will trek back to the Y.D. as soon as you and I. The steers will have to take chances next winter."

The girl professed her fitness to make the trip at once, and indeed they did make it that very day. Y.D. proved Grant to remain for breakfast and "Pompey," notwithstanding the demoralization of equipment and supplies effected by the fire, again excited himself. After breakfast the Y.D. Exploded in Somewhat Ineffective Profanity.

IMPORTANT FIGURES IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Representative Frederick M. Stittman, of Maryland, admitted in Washington he believed he was one of two men whose names were being bruited about as a connected with the bribe report of the Chicago Grand Jury, but he vehemently denied he was guilty of any wrongdoing. U. S. Senator E. F. Ladd, of North Dakota, is acting as chairman of the Senate Oil Investigating Committee, Chairman Leavitt having been compelled to go to Southern Pines, N. C., on the verge of a nervous breakdown. It is reported in Washington that William J. Byrn, noted Secret Service man, will become head of the Bureau of Investigation in the Department of Justice when William J. Burns retires in the proposed shake-up of the department. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge came vigorously to the defense of President Coolidge when the latter's personal telegrams to Edward R. McLean, Washington publisher, were made public. Luther Burbank, world famous horticulturist, has just celebrated his 75th birthday at Santa Barbara, Cal. Sir Alfred Robbins, head of the administration of the United Grand Lodge of England and president of its Board of General Purposes, has arrived for American tour of Masonic lodges.

precitation of Grant's services. "Mind, I mean it. No monkey-doodles next season, young man."

Obviously Y.D. was becoming worked up, and it seemed to Grant that the time had come to speak.

"There will be none," he said, quietly. "If you come over the hills to cut the South Y.D. next summer I will personally escort you home again."

Y.D. stood open-mouthed. It was preposterous that this young upstart foreman on a second-rate ranch like Landon's should deliberately defy him.

"You see, Y.D.," continued Grant, with provoking calmness, "I've seen the papers. You've run a big bluff in this country. You've occupied rather more territory than was coming to you. In a word, you've been a good bit of a bully. Now—let me break it to you gently—those good old days are over. In future you're going to stay on your side of the line. If you crowd over you'll be pushed back. You have no more right to the hay in this valley than you have to the hide on Landon's steers, and you're not going to cut it any more, at all."

Y.D. exploded in somewhat ineffective profanity. He had a wide vocabulary of inventive, but most of it was of the stund-and-light variety. There is some language which is not to be used, unless you are willing to have it used on the ground, there and then. Y.D. had no such desire. Possibly a curious sense of honor entered into the case. It was not fair to call a young man names, and although there was considerable truth in Grant's remark that Y.D. was a bully, his bullying did not take that form. Possibly, also, he recalled at that moment the obligation under which Zen's accident had placed him. At any rate he wound up rather laconically.

"Grant," he said, "if I want that hay next year I'll cut it, spite of a—um—high water."

"All right, Y.D.," said Grant, cheerfully. "We'll see. Now, if you can spare me a horse to ride home, I'll have him sent back immediately."

Y.D. went to find Transley and arranged for a horse, and in a moment Zen appeared from somewhere.

"You've been quarreling with Dad," she said, half reproachfully, and yet in a tone which suggested that she could understand.

"Not exactly that," he parried. "We were just having a frank talk with each other."

"I know something of Dad's frank talks. . . . I'm sorry. . . . I would have liked to ask you to come and see me—to see us—my mother would be glad to see you. I can hardly ask you to come if you are going to be bad friends with Dad."

"No, I suppose not," he admitted. "You were very good to me; very—decent," she continued.

At that moment Transley, Linder and Y.D. appeared, with two horses. "Linder will ride over with you and bring back the spare beast," said Y.D.

Grant shook hands, rather formally, with Y.D. and Transley, and then with Zen. She murmured some words of thanks, and just as he would have withdrawn his hand he felt her fingers tighten very truly about his. He answered the pressure, and turned quickly away.
